Have No Fear, Your Funds Are Protected Here!

On October 3, 2008 the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act was signed. The act increased the insurance coverage on all accounts from $100,000 to $250,000. The increase in coverage will remain in effect until December 31, 2009.

What does this mean to you?

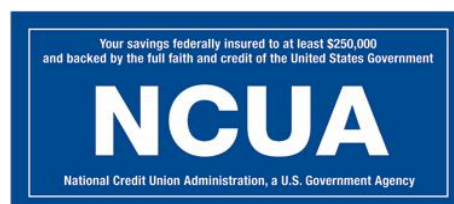

All your accounts with Suburban Federal Credit Union are federally insured by the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund (NCUSIF). If a federally insured credit union should ever fail, the NCUSIF protects members against losses. Within days of the insured credit union closing, the NCUSIF would have funds available to the members.

What accounts are covered?

The NCUSIF provides $250,000 of coverage for individual accounts. Individual accounts are regular shares (savings), share drafts (checking), money market accounts, and share certificates. The NCUSIF also provides coverage for retirement, joint, trust, revocable, and irrevocable accounts.

Visit the National Credit Union Administration website for full detail on all types of coverage offered by the NCUSIF.
